6. Berth

25X1

Three gangs of stevedores working three eight-hour shifts per day. All stevedores were adult males, who worked with "good" proficiency. Shore-generated electricity was available and was used for lighting during night loading operations, but was not used aboard the vessel for power. Sewerage was dumped into the bay, however, garbage was dumped at sea.

7. Merchant Vessels

merchant vessels at subject port, all of which loaded apatite concentrate at the same berth

8. Miscellaneous

25X1

Several barracks which housed the dock workers were located at position labeled designator E.
